Coconut Water – Health in the box!

Due to our customers' demand for new products and new supply alternatives, we would like to inform you that you can count on us to supply NFC and concentrated coconut water, refrigerated in aseptic bags.

The coconut water, a nutritious beverage with antioxidant power, that a few years ago was just part of everyday life for beach goers, has been standing out in the bottled beverage industry with estimated annual consumption in Brazil of about 65 million gallons and growing two digits each year, according to the industry's sources.

We have the product for sale in the domestic and export markets, let us know your needs and look for our sales team.

Pink guava: expectations on back thinking's time

Brazilian pink guava season is back now, in October, after a low production period and shipments can be scheduled for November/ December; expectations are now high after loses of about 10% in pink guava fields, out of which 60% is destined to the industry, during January – April this year due to lack of rains on that time, according to the Brazilian Agricultural Economics Institute (IEA), "with a little increase in the fruit prices", says the farmers, positively.

You are welcome at our booth at ANUGA fair at Hall 7.1 stand F102. Visit us! October, 05-09 / Cologne, Germany
